| So I look in (1) direction                | Just you try and stop me                      |
|---|---|
| But you pay me no attention, do you?      | I'll be waiting in line                       |
| I know you don't listen to me             | Just to see if you care                       |
| 'Cause you say you see (2) through me     | If you care                                   |
| Don't you?                                | (Oh)  |
| And on and on                             | Did you want me to change?                    |
| From the (3) I wake                       | Well I (13) for good                          |

| I'll be (4) in line                       | Don't you shiver                              |

| (Oh)                                      | Sing it loud and clear                        |

| Shiver                                    | And it's you I (16) so loud and so clear      |
| Sing it loud and clear                    | I sing it loud and clear                      |
