Falling Down by Scarlett Johansson

| I have come five hundred miles just to see a halo    | Falling down                              |
|--|---|
| Come from Saint Petersburg, Scarlett and me          | Falling down, falling down                |
| Well I open my eyes, I was blind as can be           | Go on down to that (8) ball               |
| When you give a man luck                             | Come swinging along                       |
| He must fall in the sea                              | Everyone knew that hotel was a goner      |
| And she wants you to steal and get caught            | They broke all the windows                |
| For she (1) you for all (2) you are not              | They took all the door knobs              |
| Falling down   | They hauled it away                       |
| Falling down, falling down                           | In a couple of days                       |
| Falling down   | Now someone yell timber                   |
| You forget all the roses don't come around on Sunday | And take off your hat                     |
| She's not gonna (3) you for standing so tall         | It's a lot smaller (9) here on the ground |
| Go on and (4) a swig of (5)                          | Falling down                              |
| (6) and like it                                      | Falling down, (10) down, falling down     |
| Don't ask for silverware                             |   |
| Don't ask for nothing                                |   |
| Go on, put (7) ear to the ground                     |   |
| You'll be hearing that sound                         |   |
