The Islander by Nightwish

Fill in the gaps

An old man by a seashore	(Oh)
At the end of day	Now his love's a memory
Gazes the (1) (2) seawinds in	A ghost in the fog his face	He sets the (7) one last time saying
Tempest-tossed island	Farewell to the world
Seasons all the same	Anchor to the water
Anchorage unpainted and a ship without a name	Seabed far below
Sea (3) a shore for the banished one	Grass still in his feet unheard	And a smile beneath his brow
He lightens the beacon light at the end of world	This is for long-forgotten
Showing the way, lighting hope in their hearts	Light at the end of the world
The ones on their travels homeward from afar	Horizon crying
This is for long-forgotten	The tears he (8) behind so long ago
Light at the end of the world	So long ago
Horizon crying	So (9) ago
The tears he (4) behind long ago	This is for long-forgotten
The albatross is flying	Light at the end of the world
Making him daydream	Horizon crying
The time before he became	The tears he left (10) so long ago
One of the world's unseen	So long ago
Princess in the tower
Children in the fields
Life (5) him it all
An (6) of the universe
