Just Before Goodbye by Nina Nesbitt

| You got new jeans                            | 'Cause something so beautiful                  |
|--|--|
| The hood is not gone                         | Can fall apart so fast                         |
| I'm in the new dress that I've never worn    | Don't you understand                           |
| And I (1) have sworn                         | Just before goodbye                            |
| You didn't bat an eye when I walked          | You had the chance to change your mind         |
| Into the room and I first thought            | Just (16) you (17) saying                      |
| You could be the one                         | You (18) this your (19) try                    |
| Have we been (2) the world through           | It's not enough to try                         |
| A piece of shattered glass                   | You have to (20) your blood and (21)           |
| Something so beautiful can (3) apart so fast | and time                                       |
| Just before goodbye                          | Take the world of hurt inside                  |
| You had the chance to change (4) mind        | You had one (22) (23) to change                |
| Just before you lied saying                  | (24) mind                                      |
| You gave this (5) best try                   | Just (25) goodbye                              |
| It's not (6) to try                          | Just before goodbye                            |
| You have to give your blood and (7) and time | You had the chance to change (26) mind         |
| You had one (8) chance to change (9)         | And just before you lied saying                |
| mind   | You gave this your (27) try                    |
| Just (10) goodbye                            | It's not enough to try                         |
| Curtains are drawn but we're (11) dressed    | You have to give your blood and tears and time |
| The (12) plays on right (13) my bed          | Take the world of hurt inside                  |
| I ask what is (14) now                       | You had one last chance to (28) your mind      |
| But you ignore, pretend (15) we're fine      | Just before goodbye                            |
| We're not together, half of the time         | Before goodbye                                 |
| I would have known the signs                 | Before goodbye                                 |
| Have we been seeing the world through        |  |
