Sounds Of Silence by Simon and Garfunkel

Hello darkness, my old friend	And no one dared
I've come to talk (1) you again	Disturb the sound of silence
Because a vision softly creeping	"Fools", said I, "You do not know
Left its seeds while I was sleeping	Silence like a cancer grows."
And the vision that was planted in my brain	"Hear my (6) that I might teach you,
Still remains	Take my arms that I might reach you."
Within the sound of silence	But my words, (7) silent raindrops fell,
In restless dreams I walked alone	And echoed In the wells of silence
Narrow (2) of cobblestone	And the people (8) and prayed
'Neath the halo of a street lamp	To the neon god they made
I turned my collar to the cold and damp	And the sign flashed out its warning
When my eyes were stabbed by the flash of a (3)	In the words that it was forming light	And the (9) said: "The words of the prophets
That split the night	Are written on the subway walls
And touched the sound of silence	And (10) halls,
And in the naked light I saw	And whispered in the sounds of silence."
Ten thousand people, maybe more
People (4) without speaking
People hearing without listening
People writing songs that (5) never share
