

Fill in the gaps

| You get a (1) in the dark                             | Saving it up for (19) night                             |
|---|---|
| t's (2) in the park, but meantime                     | With the Sultans  |
| South of the river you (3) and you hold everything    | We're the Sultans of Swing                              |
| A band is (4) dixie double four time                  | Then a (20) of young boys, they're fooling              |
| You feel alright (5) you (6)                          | (21) in the corner                                      |
| (7) music ring  | Drunk and dressed in their best brown baggies and their |
| Well now you step (8) but you don't see too           | (22) soles  |
| (9) faces   | They don't give a damn about any trumpet playing band   |
| Coming in out of the (10) to hear the jazz go down    | It ain't what (23) call rock and roll                   |
| Competition in (11) places                            | Then the Sultans  |
| Ah but the horns, they blowin' that sound             | Yeah, the Sultans they played creole                    |
| Way on (12) south                                     | Creole  |
| Nay on down south, London town                        | And then the man, he (24) right up to the               |
| Check out Guitar George, he knows all the chords      | microphone  |
| Mind he's strictly rhythm, he doesn't (13) to make it | And says at last just as the time bell rings            |
| cry or sing   | Goodnight, now it's time to go home                     |
| Yes and an old guitar is all he can afford            | Then he makes it fast (25) one more thing               |
| When he gets up under the (14) to play his            | We are the Sultans                                      |
| hing  | We are the Sultans of (26)                              |
| And Harry doesn't (15) if he doesn't (16)             |   |
| the scene   |   |
| He's got a (17) job, he's doing alright               |   |
| He can (18) the honky tonk like anything              |   |
