

Don't you (7)_____ the same

Fill in the gaps

| I saw your face                   | And (8) can wait                  |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| And you saw mine                  | 'Cause you're my desire           |
| And then we got much higher       | Heaven can wait                   |
| I can't deny                      | You're turning up in time         |
| You came in time                  | So take up my heart               |
| To set the (1) on fire            | Living for this day of joy, oh no |
| Close your eyes                   | It's never too late, oh yeah      |
| Close your eyes and say           | And heaven can wait               |
| You're the one                    | Heaven can wait                   |
| Don't you (2) the same            | Heaven can wait                   |
| And heaven can wait               | And heaven can wait               |
| 'Cause you're my desire           | 'Cause you're my desire           |
| Heaven can wait                   | Oh, heaven can wait               |
| You're (3) up in time             | You're turning up in time         |
| So take up my heart               | So take up my heart               |
| Living for this day of joy, oh no | Living for this day of joy, oh no |
| It's never too late, oh yeah      | It's never too late, oh yeah      |
| And (4) can wait                  | And (9) can wait                  |
| I saw your eyes                   | 'cause you're my desire           |
| And you saw mine                  | Heaven can wait                   |
| You cannot be a liar              | Oh, you're turning up in time     |
| By day and night                  | So take up my heart               |
| Say what you like                 | Living for (10) day of joy, oh no |
| I'll (5) my love much higher      | It's never too late, oh yeah      |
| Close your eyes                   | And heaven can wait               |
| Close (6) eyes and say            |                                   |
| You're the one                    |                                   |
