

Fill in the gaps

You never can tell (Pulp Fiction BSO) by Chuck Berry

It was a teenage wedding	The rapid tempo of the music fell
And the old folks wished them well	C'est la vie say the old folks,
You (1) see that Pierre	It (10) to (11) you never can tell
Did truly love the mademoiselle	(12) bought a souped-up jitney,
And now the young monsieur and (2)	It was a (13) red 53
Have (3) the chapel bell	And (14) it (15) to new
C'est la vie say the old folks,	(16)
It goes to show you never can tell	To celebrate their anniversary
They furnished off an apartment	It was there where (17) was
(4) a two-room Roebuck sale	(18)
The coolerator was crammed	To the (19) mademoiselle
With tv dinners and ginger ale	C'est la vie say the old folks,
And when Pierre found work,	It goes to (20) you never can tell
The little (5) comin` (6) out well	They had a (21) wedding
C'est la vie say the old folks	And the old folks wished (22) well
It (7) to show you never can tell	You could see (23) Pierre
They had a hi-fi phono,	Did truly love the mademoiselle
Boy, did (8) let it blast	And now the young monsieur and madam
(9) hundred little records,	(24) rung the (25) bell
All blues, rock, rhythm, and jazz	C'est la vie say the old folks,
But when the sun went down,	It (26) to (27) you (28)
	can tell
